MISCELLANEOUS.

NOTICE OF ELECTION.

By virtue of an ordinance of the Board of Aldermen passed June 14th, there will be an election held on JULY 15TH, 1875, to determine whether the Board of Aldermen shall have authority to issue ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS OF THE CITY BONDS. Those approving the said issue of bonds shall vote "Approved"; those opposing, "Not Approved." The said bonds will not be sold or in any manner used to increase the city debt, but shall be issued to fund the present indebtedness of the city. The polls will be opened at the polling places used in the late election.

The Books of Registration for all the wards will be found at the Mayor's office, and those who are duly registered can have an opportunity of registering.

LOCAL BRIEFS—

Another heavy rain yesterday afternoon.

Mr. J. D. Whitaker has for sale two thousand cords of best pine wood cheap.

The rain of Wednesday afternoon did some damage in this section, washing up crops and fences.

Governor Brogden has made Jno. Nutt, Jr., Notary Public for Bladen county.

The uniform of our police corps is quite beautiful, and constitutes another "button" in our advancement to a city of some importance.

Pepper received yesterday the finest turtle of the season. He will have soup both to-day and to-morrow. Families supplied.

The Board of Aldermen meet to-night to consider the question of assessing taxes. "Blessed are they that have nothing to tax," one of whom we are which.

Now save your bedbugs. It has been discovered that, soaked in a solution of nitrate of potash, they produce a delicate, delicious and penetrating perfume for the handkerchief and toilet.

We learn that a banquet will be given next week to the delegates to the Cotton States Congress, which assembles in this city on the 13th inst. Every arrangement will be made to give our visitors on this occasion a good time.

Judge Watts will adjourn Wake Court this afternoon, in order to allow him to go to Chatham county to make a political harangue there to-morrow to his Radical friends. We need no change of Constitution, Oh no!

His Excellency, Gov. Brogden, has fortified himself by calling around him as his Aids, with the rank of Colonel, Messrs. Geo. W. Stanton, of Wilson, I. J. Young, of Granville, A. D. Jenkins, of Gaston, and Wm. S. Pearson, of Buncombe.

"No Raleigh papers Tuesday morning," complains the Charlotte Observer. Does Caldwell think we never observe the glorious Fourth? We issued no paper on Tuesday, neighbor. You had your frolic Saturday, and faith, we had our's on Monday.

The Charlotte Observer thus twits His Excellency, Gov. Brogden, about his bachelordom:

"The Wilmington Star says that His Excellency, Gov. Brogden, is in love with an attractive daughter of the Centennial City. A love letter from the Governor would make mighty fine reading, don't you know it would?"

☞ Persons leaving the city for the Summer can have the DAILY NEWS sent to them for 75 cents per month, postage prepaid. The address may be changed as often as desirable.

RETURNED TO HIS OLD HOME.—A Western exchange, that evidently knows something of the carpet-bag legislature of North Carolina, has the following good hit: "An ex-member of the North Carolina Legislature has returned to his old home—the Ohio State Penitentiary—and he seems to feel more contented than for years past."

Ex-Sheriff Tim Lee was yesterday tried before Judge Watts upon the charge of embezzling the county funds. The Solicitor entered a nol pros. in one indictment and in the other Lee was acquitted. Thus does this ex-official go forth "a free man," notwithstanding the high-handed manner in which he handled the monies of the county during his term of office.

PERSONAL.—We had the pleasure yesterday of a visit from Mr. E. S. Parker of the Alamance Gleaner. Mr. P. is the Conservative nominee for the Convention in Alamance, and with voice and pen will do every thing to restore his county to its old record, lost last Summer by misunderstanding. And from the energy and ability of Mr. Parker, we have every assurance that he will be able to accomplish every thing that is expected from him.

AN IMPORTANT MEETING.—The members of the Executive Committee of the Conservative and Democratic party in Wake county are requested to meet at the Court House in the city of Raleigh, Saturday the 10th day of July. This Committee consists of the three Central Committeemen and the Chairmen of the Township Executive Committees.

W. W. JONES,
Chairman of Ex. Committee.

THE OXFORD ORPHANS.—In consequence of the rain storm of Wednesday night these orphans were prevented from giving their entertainment at Cary on that night, but will, we learn be at that place to-night, and at Apex on Saturday night. We trust that these children, who are laboring in the interest of the remainder of the children at the Asylum, will receive hearty encouragement wherever they may go.

CAMERON STATION.—We learn that the cars of the Raleigh & Augusta A. L. R. R. will run through to this new station, named in honor of Paul C. Cameron, Esq., on Tuesday next. This point is 57 miles from Raleigh and fifteen miles below Sanford. The track to Cameron is already laid, and the regular schedule from Raleigh to that point will commence on Monday. From Cameron to Rockingham, where the R. & A. A. L. R. R. will cross the Carolina Central, is 40 miles, and it is thought this will be completed by the first of April next, giving us another (the usual gauge) route to Charlotte.

A POISONING CASE.—A lady of Lexington gives us through the mail some explanation of a case which excited much interest in Lexington, and has also been the subject of some exaggeration.

It appears that a white servant girl employed in the family of Dr. Pinnix, infused poison into soup intended for two invalid children. Mrs. Pinnix tasted the soup before giving it to the children, detected the fact of its being poisoned, and saved the children, but was herself made violently ill and life endangered. She has, however, recovered. The girl confessed the crime, but disavowed the intention of poisoning any but Charlie Pinnix, a cadet at Bingham's School, at home during vacation, and also the two children who were favorite servants.

The girl was not arrested and has gone to parts unknown.

A COMPLIMENT TO THE WILMINGTON JOURNAL.—In the case of the State vs. Wm. T. Jackson alias Snow, indicted for the murder of Charles Jackson some time since in Wilmington, upon affidavit the case was moved to Onslow.

The Wilmington Journal of the two dates on which the prisoner James Burgess (who is now on trial for his complicity in the murder) and Caleb B. Snow, were previously examined, was used in the Court by the Counsel for the prisoners as references. This is a handsome testimony to the fullness and fidelity of the report of the case as made up for the Journal, and is an exceedingly rare, though richly deserved compliment.

DIRECTORS FOR THE N. C. R. R.—Gov. Brogden has appointed as Directors of the N. C. R. R., on the part of the State, the following gentlemen: Messrs. W. A. Smith, R. Barringer, John C. McDonald, S. H. Wiley, W. R. Albright, Henry W. Fries, N. H. D. Wilson and R. F. Patterson, with G. W. Welker as State proxy.

There will be work in the third degree in the Wm. Hill Lodge F. & A. M. on Monday night, in their new Lodge room in the Fisher building. Masons generally invited to be present.

Wake County Canvass.

The Chairman of the County Executive Committees of the Democratic and Republican parties have arranged the following route to be pursued by the candidates for delegates to the Convention. The speaking as to time will be arranged by candidates:

Middle Creek, Thursday, July 15, at Utley's, Buckhorn, Friday July 16th, Lashley's, Swift Creek, Saturday July 17, Franklin's, Cary, Monday July 19th, Cary.

NEW CROCKERY ESTABLISHMENT.—As soon as the new Holleman building is fully completed, Law & Co. of Atlanta Ga., will take possession of one of the elegant new stores as a crockery establishment. The business of the house will be wholesale and retail. The senior partner was for many years engaged in this business in the city of New York as a direct importer, and the experience thus acquired is a sufficient assurance of the successful management of the house in this city.

We hail the new business as an evidence of the growing consequence of Raleigh, which is attracting to it capital and business men from the large cities as well as from the neighboring towns.

STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS.—Capt. J. C. Turner, the father of Col. J. McLeod Turner, was stricken with Paralysis, in Salisbury, on Monday. The whole of one side is paralyzed. At last account the mind of the victim was wandering, and no hopes were entertained of his permanent recovery.—Charlotte Observer of Wednesday.

We were pleased to learn yesterday that Capt. Turner's condition was thought much better, he having partially recovered the use of his limbs and voice.

M. B. & L. A.—The 75th regular meeting of the "Mechanic's Building and Loan Association" will be held in the Court House on Friday evening at 8½ o'clock. Business of importance to every stockholder will come before the meeting, and it is hoped that every member will attend.

WM. SIMPSON, Sec.

Decision of the Supreme Court in the Wilmington Election Case.

The following is the opinion of the Supreme Court in the case of Van Bokkelen vs Canady, as rendered by Judge Reade on Tuesday:

Our government is founded on the will of the people. Their will is expressed by the ballot. The ballot embraces every citizen twenty-one years old, who has had a residence in the State for twelve months and in the county where he offers to vote, for thirty days. There is no other qualification required. Property qualification for voters and office holders, which our former Constitutions required, and which many thought important, have passed away, and are now regarded as antiquated. Not only is freedom to vote and hold office secured in our present Constitution, but it is so embedded in the hearts of the people, that it was thought necessary to stipulate against any interference with it by a contemplated Convention to alter the Constitution. The act of the last General Assembly calling a Convention has a provision that the Convention "shall not require, or propose any educational or property qualification for office, or voting," and requires the delegates to take an oath to observe it.

Whether that is wise or unwise, the Court can give no opinion. Our province is to expound the Constitution and laws as they are made, and not to make them.

The Constitution provides that every male person twenty-one years old, resident in the State twelve months, and in the county thirty days, shall be an elector—Art. 6, sec. 1.

An elector for what? The Constitution does not say for what. Does it mean, elector for President, or for members of Congress, or for Governor, or for Judges, or for members of the General Assembly or for county officers, or for township or town officers, or what else? There it stands by itself without explanation—that every such person shall be an elector—a voter. It evidently means to designate those persons as a class, to vote generally whenever the polls are opened and elections held for anything connected with the general government, or the State or local governments. Just as a class of persons are designated as qualified for jurors.

And so in Art. 7, sec. 1, it is provided that all county elections shall be by "the qualified voters thereof." But who are they? There is no way of determining except to look back to the class designated above.

And so the 5th section provides, that township elections shall be by the "qualified voters thereof." And we have to look to the class to find out who they are.

And so Art. 7, sec. 7, provides, that no county, city, town, or other municipal corporation shall contract any debt, &c., unless by a vote of a majority of the "qualified voters therein;" and we have to look to the class to find who they are.

Here, counties, cities and towns are grouped together; and so are their qualified voters. And except in this way there are no qualifications prescribed for voters in cities and towns. But cities and towns, like counties and townships, are parts and parcels of the State, organized for the convenience of local self-government. And the qualifications of their voters are the same. It follows, that the General Assembly cannot in any way change the qualifications of voters in state, county, township, city or town elections.

And yet the fact which we are considering requires a residence of ninety days instead of thirty. And if the ninety days may be required, a year, or years, may be. And so, in many of our young and growing towns, a majority of the citizens may be excluded, and the government given to "the oldest inhabitants;" or, if long residence may be made a qualification, so it may be made a disqualification, and then the government may be given to the youngest inhabitants. And so, if these qualifications may be added, then any others may; just as we find that in one of the town charters granted by the last General Assembly it is provided, that, in addition to the citizens of the town, all persons who have lived in the county twelve months "and who own taxable real estate in said town, who have paid all the taxes," &c., shall be allowed to vote. Acts 1874-5, chap. 157, Private Laws. Surely the Legislature had no power to put any portion of the people of the State under such a government. If they can do that, then they can put Wilmington under the government of the land owners of New Hanover county.

For illustration: a man presents himself at a town election and says, I have voted in the State election, in the county election, in the township election, and now I want to vote in the town election, where I have lived thirty days. His vote is rejected, because he has not resided there ninety days. In vain we look in the Constitution for any such qualification. The General Assembly has disfranchised him, and that in a case which comes much nearer home to him than any other election; for the town government affects his business, trade, market, health, comfort, pleasure, taxes, property and person.

We are of the opinion that the qualifications for a voter in a city or town are, citizenship, twenty-one years of age, twelve months residence in the State, and thirty days in the city or town.

II. Again: The Act provides that before an election there shall be a registration of voters, and only those who register can vote. The first ward is made a registration and election precinct; and so with the second. The third ward is divided by metes and bounds, into four precincts. Of course every voter must register in the ward and in the precinct where he lives, and in no other, and must vote where he registers, the object being to prevent fraud by "repeating." But a large portion of the third ward—on the west side of the river—was, by mistake probably, not included in any of the precincts. And of course they cannot register or vote. And Perry vs. Whitaker 71 N. C. Rep., is an express decision, that makes the election void.

Indeed, it would seem that the registration provision for such parts of the city as are embraced, are so impracticable as to amount to the disfranchisement of the voters.

The Constitution ordains that the General Assembly shall provide for the registration of voters, and that no one shall vote without registration. Art. 6, sec. 2. This means that the General Assembly shall provide the conveniences and necessaries, so that the voters can register. It is to facilitate the exercise of the right of the ballot; and not to defeat it. It is true that this includes the power and the duty to throw such guards around as will protect the ballot from fraud. And therefore our general election law provides, that when a voter offers to register, or vote, he may be challenged, and required to take an oath as to his qualifications. And so in our general law regulating town elections. (Battle's Revisal.)

There can be no objection to that, and it prevents no man from voting, and puts him to no inconvenience. If a man will swear that he has the qualifications, then he can register and vote: unless it can be proved against him that he is not entitled. And in that case he can be rejected. But the act under consideration is framed upon the idea of making the ballot as difficult as possible. Indeed it makes it impracticable. It provides that "any elector may, and it shall be the duty of the registrar to, challenge the right of any person to register, known or suspected not to be lawfully entitled to register; and when such challenge shall be made, it shall be the duty of the registrar to require such person to prove to the satisfaction of the registrar the fact of his being of lawful age to vote, the fact of his residence for twelve months in the State, and for ninety days in the lots," &c. It will be noted that any bystander may challenge the voter without proving anything against him, and the voter is not allowed to swear to his qualifications; but he must prove them by the oaths of others, and these others must be known to the registrar, and the registrar must be satisfied. Now, how is it possible for persons who move into Wilmington from other counties in the State to get witnesses from a distance known to the registrar? Wilmington to prove their ages and their residences? It is impossible. It is a practical denial of the right to register and vote.

III. It has been already said that towns and cities are but parts and parcels of the State for the convenience of local self-government, and that the voters, and the rights of voters, also the same as in the State government. A fundamental principle in the State government is, that representation shall be apportioned to the people's vote as near as may be. Large counties and large districts shall have more representatives than small ones, so that not only every man may vote, but his vote shall count in the representative body.

The Act creates a representative legislative body—Board of nine Aldermen, for the city of Wilmington. Now, if every voter could vote for all the nine Aldermen, of course every man's vote would count. But the city is divided into three wards, as nearly equal as may be, and each ward elects three of the Aldermen, then every one would count. But instead of that the city is divided into two wards—the first has about 600 voters; the second about 800 and the third 280. So that one vote in the first and second wards counts as much as seven in the third ward. That this is a plain violation of the principle of representation is plain to argument. That the Legislature never intended such a result, we are obliged to assume. Nor is there anything stated in the case that can lead us to a contrary conclusion. In the suggestion that it was to protect property from irresponsible voters, it is answered, that it is scattered in the case, that the valuation of property in the third ward is greater than in the other wards put together. And to the suggestion that it was to separate the colored from the white vote, it is answered, that while most of the colored voters are in the first and second wards, there are also many white voters in the third wards together. And to the suggestion that it was to keep the intelligent and educated and wealthier the control of the city government it is answered that the same Legislature has in a principle is expressly repudiated as existing in the present Constitution, and is expressly prohibited from being incorporated in any subsequent Constitution. The Convention shall not require or propose any "education or property qualification for office or voting." And to the suggestion that it is a plan devised by the city for its better government, it is answered that not one voter in five voted at the election.

At any rate, without questioning the intent of the Legislature, we see that the effect of the acts is to violate the fundamental principles of the Constitution, and their own cherished and declared purpose to maintain free manhood suffrage, and to eschew educational or property qualifications. And, as is said in Jacobs vs. Smallwood, 67 N. C. Rep., it is the effect of the act, and not the intention of the Legislature, which renders it void.

It is usual in quo warranto to enquire first into the title of the defendant to the office; but we are precluded from that enquiry here, by the case sent us as we are confined to the record, which is as follows:

"Upon the foregoing facts it is submitted to the Honorable the Superior Court of New Hanover county to determine the following questions:

1. Whether the relators of the plaintiff are now entitled to the said office of Aldermen of said city.

2. If not entitled now, will they be so entitled from and after the first Thursday in August, &c.?"

And it is agreed that if the Court shall be of opinion in the affirmative upon either one of said two questions, judgment shall be rendered, that the defendant be ousted from the said office, and that the relators be put in possession thereof.

Judgment.

ROBERT STRANGE,
GEORGE DAVIS,
Attorneys for the Plaintiffs.
DANIEL RUSSELL,
EDWARD CANTWELL,
Attorneys for Defendants.

It was insisted upon the argument here, that if the title of the relators is bad, the title of the defendants is bad also, and for the same reason. But it will be seen that the only point presented to us is as to the title of the relators.

There is error. Judgment reversed, and judgment here that the relators are not entitled to the office.

POLL HOLDERS FOR CITY ELECTION.—The Commissioners have appointed the following poll-holders for the city election on the 15th inst., on the question of funding the debt of the city:

1st Ward—T B Yancey, H M Miller.
2d Ward—Simon Hayes, J E Williamson.
3d Ward—J C L Lumsden, H T Clawson.
4th Ward—S M Merrill, J R Whitaker.
5th Ward—J T Parham, J W Cole.

SUPREME COURT.—This Court met yesterday at 9 o'clock, all the Justices present.

The Court was occupied during the day in moving motions.

The case of Jno. C. Blake vs. Wm. E. Askew, from Wake, was set for hearing Saturday. Battle & Son for plaintiff, and Merrimon, Fuller & Ashe, and Smith & Strong for defendant.

The 12th and 6th Districts will be taken up on Monday next.

There were no new developments yesterday in the Partin wife-murder case. Several other parties were before the Grand Jury, but we knew of no new facts elicited.

REGRET.

If I had known, O loyal heart,
When, hand to hand, we said farewell,
How for all time our paths would part,
What shadow o'er our friendship fell,
I should have clasped your hand I so close
To the warm pressure of my own,
That memory still would I keep its grasp,
If I had known.

If I had known when, far and wide,
We loitered through the summer land,
What Presence wandered by our side,
And o'er you stretched its awful hand,
I should have hushed my careless speech
To listen, dear, to every tone
That from your lips fell low and sweet,
If I had known.

If I had known, when your kind eyes
Met mine in parting, true and sad—
Eyes gravely tender, gently wise,
And earnest, rather, more than glad—
How soon the lids would lie above,
As cold and white as sculptured stone,
I should have treasured every glance,
If I had known.

If I had known how, from the strife
Of fears, hopes, passions, here below,
Unto a purer, higher life
That you were called, O friend to go,
I should have stayed my foolish tears,
And hushed each idle sigh and moan,
To bid you a last, long God-speed,
If I had known.

If I had known to what strange place,
What mystic, distant, silent shore,
You calmly turned your steadfast face
What time your footsteps left my door,
I should have forged a golden link
To bind the heart so constant grown,
And keep it constant ever there,
If I had known.

If I had known that until Death
Shall with his fingers touch my brow,
And still the quickening of the breath
That stirs with life's full meaning now,
So long my feet must tread the way
Of our accustomed paths alone,
I should have prized your presence more
If I had known.

If I had known how soon for you
Drew near the ending of the fight,
And on your vision fair and new,
Eternal peace dawn into sight,
I should have begged, in love's last gift,
That you before God's great white throne,
Would pray for your poor friend on earth,
If I had known.

THE GAUGE QUESTION BEFORE JUDGE WATTS.—The case of the State vs. Buford, Allen and the R. & D. R. R. Co. was heard yesterday before Judge Watts, Messrs. Buford and others having been indicted for the change of gauge of that road in the Wake Superior Court. The counsel agreed upon a case to go before the Supreme Court, when the Judge decided the late Legislative enactment unconstitutional, when the State took an appeal.

A SELF-ADVERTISING REMEDY.—There are certain proprietary articles that advertise themselves. Among these are Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It may be truly said of this celebrated remedy for disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, and antidote to malaria, that the contents of every bottle is an advertisement, since its good effects so directly and promptly evince themselves as invariably to elicit favorable comment from those who use it. This is particularly true in rural neighborhoods invaded by chills and fever, and other types of malaria, for which it is a recognized specific. Such disorders being epidemic, the question "What is the best remedy and safeguard?" naturally presents itself to everybody in this vicinity, and is made the subject of general inquiry. A family benefitted by the Bitters communicates the fact to the neighbors, who in turn become patrons of the great remedy and proclaim its efficacy. This explains why it has become the most popular of American household medicines, and why its popularity is continually on the increase. jy 3—D&Wlw.

Notice to Correspondents.

No letter can be published in these columns which is not authenticated by the name of its author. This we require, not for publication, but as a guarantee of the good faith of correspondents. Persons who violate this rule will have their communications consigned to the waste-basket.

THE WEEKLY NEWS is the cheapest paper published in North Carolina. It is only one dollar per year, postage paid, contains 32 columns of plain printed news from every section of the country, and important advertisements. Always Cash.

THE CONCORD SUN.

The publication of this journal will be resumed on the 17th inst., under the control of Messrs. Everett and Nelson, editors and proprietors. It will maintain its old character as a bold and able advocate of Conservative principles. We wish it success.

A DECLINATION.

We have received the following communication from Dr. B. Craven, by which it will be seen that he declines the nomination as a candidate for the Convention. The causes set forth for his action are such as will secure the approval of every conscientious man, and while the party will regret to be deprived of the services of so able a man, it must yield to the force of his convictions; assured at the same time that the success of the Convention is a matter very dear to the heart of Dr. Craven:

TRINITY COLLEGE, July 6, 1875.

I see it stated in many papers, that I have been nominated to represent Randolph county in the State Convention. I was nominated, but declined to accept the nomination. I have decided political opinions, and never fail on proper occasions to assert them; but I believe that no minister of the Gospel, or President of a college should be a politician.—The pulpit, the hustings and the rostrum, are united in interest, but not in discussion. I think no man has yet succeeded in doing good work in all of them; and every attempt to combine them has generally destroyed usefulness in either. The citizens of my native county thought I could serve them without specially engaging in political issues; I thought otherwise, and respectfully declined.

Yours Truly,

B. CRAVEN.

OPPOSITION TO CONVENTION.

The Democratic party made the move in the direction of constitutional reform with the hope, that as those reforms benefitted both parties alike, as the defects of the present Constitution were the subjects of complaint from both sides, both parties would agree to work together to gain the desired end. The Democratic party tried to keep it out the pale of politics, and for a while with some promise of success, since not only did some of the most pronounced Republicans in the State strongly avow the necessity of some material reforms, but some, such as Judge Cantwell went so far as himself to introduce a bill to call a Convention, others like Mr. Candler, went to the extent of voting for such bill. But since the campaign has begun, it is evident that the Republican party are opposing the movement on party ground.

They are sagacious enough to see the weak points in the field—not so much opposition to the results of a Convention, as that original lingering feeling of opposition to calling it at the present time, and the anticipated indifference of the people to coming out with a full vote.

They expect by activity on their part, and indifference on ours, to regain their lost ground, and come again into the control of the affairs of the State, if this becomes again a contest between the two parties for superiority.

If the Democrats will be made to understand what is the truth, that the defeat of the Convention is not so much the object as the restoration of Republican power, then there can be no possible fear of the result. They will not invite such a disaster. But they must understand that the Republicans are working to this end, and that the vote on the Convention question decides it.

Lightning in Montgomery county, Pa., has a perfect contempt for lightning rods. It waltzed around the roof of house up there that had two of them on.

REPUBLICAN TESTIMONY TO NEGRO INCOMPETENCY.

Mr. H. Blandy, of Ohio, a large manufacturer of machinery, and well known in the South, is a man of wealth, a man of intelligence, and a Republican politician of the most advanced views. He is to a certain extent a representative man in his State. He has recently been interviewed by a correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer on the condition of affairs, State and National, and has this to say on the subject of negro fitness for self government:

He said: "I feel no little apprehension over the condition of the South. A sympathy for my fellow-creatures made me the negro's fast friend, because I wanted to see him lifted out of slavery. Conferring the right of suffrage on him was a political necessity, but he has proven himself utterly unfit for self-government. He is not fit to sit in the halls of legislation to make laws for others. He ought not to have received the ballot without some restrictions. We are now suffering from the evils of our too hasty action, which must be remedied in some manner, but how is the great problem."

Now hear the other side of the account.

At a colored celebration at Hilldale near Washington City on the 5th, Fred Douglass and Prof. Langston, both negroes, addressed the meeting. They demanded the independence of the negro from the pretended white friends who had done the negro more harm than they had given help. The hour had come to throw off the yoke. The negro must stand up for their rights as freemen. The time had come for them to manage their own institutions. If they had colored churches, they must have colored preachers. If they had colored banks they must have colored bankers. They had played the second fiddle too long.

This declaration together with the action of the secret negro societies in Virginia, the object of which is to demand and obtain for the colored man his full share in offices and honors (which the negroes in North Carolina know they have not got, though in their own party outnumbering their white friends ten to one) shows that the end is near at hand. What is the Republican party without the negro vote? And what is the negro to the Republican party without his vote? And when these two elements by the alliance of which political ascendancy has been attained in the South and in the Government fall into confusion, both the party and the colored man go to the wall.

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA.

We have carefully examined the scheme recently published for the reopening of the University. We note the following points:

The course of studies is what is called elective.

At the same time the curriculum is adopted for those who desire it.

There are four courses leading to degrees, and one called "optional," in which the student does not strive for a degree.

1. Those who wish to adopt the course in which the Ancient Languages and Mathematics form a chief part can adopt that analogous to the old curriculum, leading in four years to the degree of A. B.

2. Those wishing to omit Latin and Greek can pursue a shorter course, containing more modern languages, and what are called practical studies, and in three years attain the degree of B. S. (Bachelor of Science.)

3. Those wishing a course more immediately allied to Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts, can in three years obtain the degree of Bachelor of Agriculture.

4. Those desiring a still higher course can do so, and standing an examination of great stringency, obtain the degree of A. M. The old practice of granting this as an honorary degree is abolished, and it is intended to be of real value, like that of the M. A. in the University of Virginia, and other first class Institutions.

5. But besides these, a course has been provided to meet the wants of those who desire only to pursue certain studies, without obtaining a degree, which may be called the "optional course." Certificates of proficiency may be obtained in the branches studied. Of course the Faculty will see that the pupil does not waste his time.

It thus appears that the scheme is intended to combine the advantages of the curriculum, with those of what is known as the "University" or "elective system.

It is understood that the names of the classes as in old times, viz: Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, Senior, will not be retained.

We learn that the Faculty will be at their posts in sufficient time before the 1st Monday in September to be ready to examine students and begin the regular recitations on that day. We are glad to learn that it is the intention of the Trustees to arrange that the students shall have good and substantial, but not costly board. Extravagance will be prevented in every possible way.

Davie County Nominating Convention.

The County Convention of the Conservatives of Davie met at the Court House at Mocksville on Saturday, the 3rd day of July 1875, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the Convention to meet on the 6th of September next.

B. B. Bailey Esq., was called to the chair, and G. W. Bingham was elected Secretary.

W. B. Clement then introduced the following preamble and resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, the Legislature of North Carolina having provided ways and means for the holding of a Convention of the people for the purpose of altering and amending our Constitution, and having placed certain limit and restrictions upon the powers of the Convention: and whereas certain of our wise men are of the opinion that the delegates to such a Convention will not be legally bound by such restrictions, Therefore,

Resolved, 1st. That it is our desire that the delegate whether legally bound so to do or not, take and subscribe the oath laid down in the act calling the Convention, and abide by the restrictions.

2nd. That we desire a return to the forms of government as framed by our fathers, (except as restricted by the act calling the Convention) especially in the manner of electing Judges and the forms of County governments.

3rd. That we desire and especially enjoin upon our delegate to oppose all ordinances legislative in their character except such as are provided for in Section 4 of the Constitutional act.

Every township being represented and the Convention having decided that each township shall be entitled to one vote, on motion the meeting proceeded to nominate a candidate, when Charles Price, Esq., having received the whole number of votes cast, was declared unanimously elected.

On motion, Messrs. W. B. Clement, S. J. Hanes and Charles Howell were appointed to wait on Mr. Price, with a copy of the resolutions adopted and inform him of his election.

Mr. Price immediately appeared with the committee, and very gracefully accepted the nomination, endorsing the resolutions, and pledging himself to abide by the restrictions imposed by the act calling the Convention.

Moved and carried, that the townships here represented proceed to elect an Executive Committee to be composed of one member for each township, to meet at our next Court and organize by the election of a Chairman; and that it shall be the duty of said committee, in addition to its other duties, to apportion to each township the number of delegates each shall be entitled to in our County Conventions, according to the Conservative votes polled in each in the election for State officers. On motion, resolved that the proceedings of this meeting be published in the Raleigh NEWS.

B. BAILEY, Chairman.

Murdered for a Conjurer.

[Dallas (Texas) Commercial, 28th.]

A most cold-blooded and wicked murder was committed near Canton, in Van Zandt county, a few days ago, by two negroes, Boyd and Sims. The victim, a colored man by the name of Cooper, was an industrious, intelligent and sober man, who stood well with the people and had many friends. Cooper, Sims and Boyd went out coon hunting together; the two latter returned alone, and the continued absence of Cooper created some suspicion, whereon a search was made, and his body discovered in a dry well some mile and a half from the scene of the murder. The whole community, whites and negroes, united in the search for the murders. Sims and Boyd were arrested and confessed the crime. It seems that the two murderers killed him with an ax, concealed his body in the brush, and went at night and stole the victim's mule, tied his body upon it and conveyed it to the well and threw it in. The only reasons that they could give for the murder was that Cooper was a conjurer, and had threatened to conjure them. Very few realize the hold that these superstitions have on the minds of the negroes and the half civilized Indians. Possibly Cooper being a smart negro, was playing upon their fears, and thus caused his own death.

ATLANTIC WAVES.—In reference to the height of ocean waves the North Atlantic record according to Dr. Scoresby, is 24 to 30, the higuest 33 feet and the mean 18 feet in westerly gales. French observers in the Bay of Biscay mention 36 feet; Capt. Wilkes U. S. N., saw them 32 feet high in the Pacific, and Sir J. Ross reports them as having been seen 22 high in the South Atlantic. In Northwest gales off the Cape of Good Hope they have been computed at 40 feet, and off Cape Horn at 52feet. In British waters the average is not beyond 8 or 9 feet. The speed of waves has been known to reach 60 miles an hour.

Hon. Reverdy Johnson, the Nester of the American bar, having already passed his eightieth year, astonished every body in a Baltimore Court-room the other day by his mental and physical vigor, the retentiveness of his memory, the clearness and strength of his voice, and the closeness of his reasoning on points of law. He took no notes, relying entirely on his memory to reply to long arguments by his opponents, arguing the entire day without apparent fatigue.

An exchange says: Miss Clara Rose, of Philadelphia, had $7,000 expended on her Latin, French and German education, and then married a man who has to buy his butter half a pound at a time." For our part, considering her fatal facility for snatching a husband ball-headed in four different languages, we can't help thinking that she married quite as well as she had any right to expect.

FATAL ACCIDENT IN VIRGINIA.—Frank C. Turner, aged twenty three years, son of Prof. A. J. Turner, of Staunton, Va., was thrown from a horse and killed in Fluvanna county on Saturday last. He had tied a fan behind his saddle, and whilst in the act of mounting, the wind caused the fan to flutter, which made the horse plunge forward, dashing him against a tree, crushing his skull, and causing his death in a few hours.

Fatal Battle With a Tiger—a Foolish Triumph.

Mr. Geo. S. Dobbie, Mysore revenue survey, at Shemogah, Mysore territory, on the 2nd of May, while in camp near Malur, twenty-seven miles from Shemogah, received intelligence of a tiger having been seen about six miles distant. He at once proceeded to the spot and commenced beating the jungle in the usual manner. The tiger broke from the jungle at a place near where he was posted, and immediately Mr. Dobbie fired, severely wounding the beast, which slunk off to a thicket near by. Mr. Dobbie called his peon, Syed Mustaffa, to collect the beaters and bring them all around to him, which occupied about half an hour; he then remarked to the peon, "I have hit the tiger very hard, and he has gone into that thicket," pointing to one a short distance off. He then with the peon proceeded towards the thicket, picking up the tracks of the tiger by the marks of blood on the ground. Cutting their way through the jungle they soon came near the place where the creature was lying mortally wounded. The peon saw him, and pointing to the spot said, "He is still alive." Mr. Dobbie replied, "I cannot see him." The peon again pointing to the place where the wounded beast lay, said, "Take care, sir, he is looking at us, and is about to come at us," and imediately afterwards called out, "He is crouching for a spring, so look out!" Mr. Dobbie replied, "I can't see him, but I'm all ready," and the next moment the tiger charged. Mr. Dobbie fired both barrels of his rifle (snap shots) and broke the forearm of the tiger, but did not stop him. The beast was very mad from his wounds, and possibly could barely see, for he passed between Mr. Dobbie and the peon almost touching both of them. The former struck the tiger while passing with his discharged rifle, which caused it to turn upon him, and during the desperate struggle with the enraged animal which ensued, he tripped and fell, and was immediately seized and bitten twice on the right thigh. The tiger then left him and fell dead before it had gone ten yards. Mr. Dobbie got up, looked at the dead tiger, and walked to the top of the rising grounds, and from there was carried back to his camp. He thought but little of his injuries, and during the next two days transacted his business. On obtaining a palanquin and bearers from Shemogah, for which he had sent, he returned to that station, arriving in good spirits apparently doing well, and was considered by his friends there almost out of danger. He was slightly excited and feverish, and therefore, not encouraged to speak of his encounter with the tiger. He slept tolerably well, but, notwithstanding the efforts of those attending him, he rapidly became delirious, and died in about two hours.

Mr. Davis in Texas.

The Dallas (Texas) Herald relates the following amusing incident connected with the visit of ex-President Davis to the Lone Star State:

"During the exercises at the Fair Grounds, while Hon. Jefferson Davis was speaking, a large oak tree in front of the stand was literally crammed in its branches with negroes, who joined lustily in each round of applause. One old fellow, in the exuberance of his feelings, exclaimed: "Bress de Lord! Dis carries me back to de good old days in Mississippi; dem flush times when old Jeff. was a young man in his glory, de chile ob de people, and eben de niggars was happier den anybody dese days!"

A man who was about to be hanged in Alabama sang, as he stood with the noose about his neck, "Oh, the bright angels are waiting for me." Whereupon the local editor fiendishly wrote: "And then the angels stirred up the fire, and looked brighter."

The second annual session of this school will begin WEDNESDAY, September, 1st, 1875. The Principals have procured for the school the commodious and attractive residence on Newbern Avenue, well-known in Raleigh as the "Cotton Place" more recently owned and handsomely refitted by Col. R. Kingsland.

Besides continuing their Day School they propose taking a limited number of boys of good character and conduct to board in their own family.

The training of the school, as heretofore, will be full, thorough and accurate, preparing its pupils for collegiate or business life.

Competent assistants will be provided in all departments, as may be required. The Principals trust that it is scarcely necessary for them to say that whilst the school will continue to be conducted on Christian principles, it will be entirely without denominational aim or bias.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

The French Assembly Considering Matters of Great Importance.

PARIS, July 8.—The Assembly debated public powers. A Radical moved an amendment making the future Assemblies permanent. Minister Buffet defended the Republican Constitution of February twenty-fifth. The amendment proposed is in every way relative of that instrument. He concluded as follows: "Prudence requires us to seek a guarantee against coups de etat. We shall find such, not in a clause of a constitution, but in the establishment of a government in harmony with the traditions, character and wants of the country. A permanent Assembly would be a constant focus of agitation, causing public opinion to turn to the side of executive power. Permanency would be the most detestable gift possible to bestow upon the Assembly; if Assemblies remain faithful to the public opinion the executive power will respect them." The amendment was rejected.

An amendment was adopted that should the President die while the chambers are dissolved, the Senate shall convene and a new election be immediately ordered.

The bill then passed to third reading by a vote of 56 to 79.

The American Team-Another Match Proposed.

LONDON, July 8.—The letter received on the 6th inst., by Col. Gildensleeve, in relation to the shooting by the American riflemen at Wimbledon, was from Henry Parson, Adjutant of the English eight. Mr. Parsons says, the Council is not willing to admit another team to shoot with our three eights in the Elcho Shield match, but they propose a match to take place on the seventeenth instant for the Lloyds cup between the Americans, and eight selected by the respective Captains from the three British teams. At the same time the Council does not despair of a match between the four eights which perhaps may be managed for the Monday following, shooting at Wimbledon. In the meantime it hopes that the match proposed for the 17th inst. may be agreeable to the Americans.

Minnesota Democratic Convention.

ST. PAULS, July 8.—The Democratic State Convention Platform: Constitutional amendments must be accepted in good faith by all parties. The National Government be limited to delegated powers. Great bulk of rights of people must find their safe-guards in the States and the people themselves. Return to gold and silver as the basis of currency of the country with preparative and effective measures to secure resumption. Tariff for revenue only with honest administration, non protection, no sumptuary laws. The nominations are for Governor, D. L. Buell; for Lieut. Governor, E. W. Durant.

Reported Defeat of the Carlists.

MADRID, July 8th.— Dorregaray was repulsed at Barbastro and turned hir retreat toward the Sierra Guara. The Alfonsists are in hot pursuit.—Jovellar officially announces the capture by his command of Conta Vieta, with artillery and garrison of two thousand.

Miscellaneous Items.

Troops from Mazalton have driven the revolutionists at La Paz to the mountains.

Heavy rains at Cincinnati have washed away nine bridges on the Portsmouth branch of the Marietta and Cincinnati road.

The Directors of the Bank of London yesterday fixed the minimum rate of discount at the bank at 3 per cent.

Gov. Bard has turned over the Atlantic Postoffice under both written and verbal protests. The statement about his bondsmen giving him up is a mistake.

The flood in Clinton river has backed up into the streets in East St. Louis. Miles of the track of the North Missouri road are under water. Great damage has been done by the flood, far surpassing that of 1844.

A Baltimore despatch says that Chevalier Don Jose Antonio Bizarro, many years Counsel of Spain and Mexico for Maryland, and Professor of Spanish language and Literature at St. Mary's College and St. Agnus' Hospital, died yesterday at the age of 92.

The Republican State Convention of Wisconsin nominated Harrison Luddington for Governor and Geo. H. T. Eaton for Lieut. Governor. It advocated a gradual return to specie payment, no third term, the tariff for revenue to be so adjusted as to be the least oppressive to the people, the State to control the Railroads within its borders and applauded the efforts to furnish revenue funds.

NOON DISPATCHES.

The Frontier Difficulties.

GALVESTON, TEXAS, July 8.—A despatch from Brownsville says a force of fifty cavalry and twenty Custom House guards, under command of Colonel Parrot, escorted Cortina and the prisoners to Bagdad. They shot and hung Maurico, the Portugal who had threatened to shoot an officer of the 9th cavalry, near Matamoras. The gunboat Juarez, with the prisoners, sailed yesterday. She had on board arms and ammunition. Permission was granted to discharge her at Brazos Santiago, and bring them through Brownsville. The Mexican papers claim that the removal of Cortina will permit the authorities of Matamoras to execute the law.

Miscellaneous Items.

The annual meeting of the National Morocco Manufacturer's Exchange is in session at Lynn, Mass. The old officers were re-elected. It meets next year in Wilmington Delaware.

The Hon. George Opdyke has accepted the Presidency of the New York Board of Trade at the solicitation of a majority of the members. There will be a formal election next week.

The Post office Department has offered the three packet companies between Vicksburg and New Orleans $9,000 each for temporary mail service between these cities. This is $2,400 less than last years contract.

Accounts from Pesth confirm the destructive character of the late fearful storm, but the loss of life is less than first reported. The destruction of property on the mountain slopes was fearful.

The British Government did not instruct Sir Douglas Forsythe to demand a passage for British troops through Burmah. The King says Burmah will protect the expedition to Western China, but troops must not be sent.

A Dinner Given to the Governor-General of Canada—Speechifying.

LONDON, July 9.—The Canada club gave a dinner last evening to the Lord of Dufferin, Governor-General of the Canadian Dominion, who is now on a visit to Great Britian. The Lord in response to a toast said the prevailing passion of Canadians was the desire to maintain in fact their connection with England. It was impossible to overstate the depth or universality of this sentiment. He expatiated on the friendly relations between Canada and the United States and said every thoughtful citizen of the United States was convinced that the fate of Canada is unalterably fixed and contemplates the progress of Canada with generous enthusiasm. The Americans are wise enough to understand the benefits arising from the existence on the same continent of a political system offering many points of contrast, comparison and friendly emulation with their own.

The Price and Loader Case—Price Turned State's Evidence.

NEW YORK, July 8.—Loader and Price have been indicted but Price will escape as state's evidence. Mrs. Tilton before Grand Jury gave testimony denying the accusation of Loader and Price.

Additional Particulars of the Late Unfortunate Affair in Hampton Roads.

NORFOLK, July 7.—No more bodies of the victims of the Lumberman disaster have been recovered. Detachments of the Artillery Blues again visited the scene to-day, and fired many rounds, hoping to raise the bodies of the unfortunates still missing. They were accompanied by committees of Knights of Pythias and Odd Fellows, who have earnestly sought to recover the bodies of the members of their Orders, several of whom are among the victims. The braid of a lady's hair, supposed to be that of Miss Borum, was brought to the surface, but further efforts proved unavailing to secure the remains.

It is thought many of the ill-fated excursionists, were killed instantly by the steamer passing over them. The fact that Capt. Brown received a severe blow on the side of the head and his wife had her breast-bone broken is considered strong presumptive proof that the shock of the collision was very heavy but it is not thought the wheels of the steamer were revolving when the tug was struck and passed over. The body of Joseph Wilson, recovered yesterday, showed he had received a lick on the head and must have been so severely stunned as to be unable to save himself. He was a large and powerful man and a good swimmer, and it is thought he would have saved himself if the blow had not disabled him.

The people are slow to form an opinion as to whom to blame. The officers of the Bell are known to be trusted, tried and experienced gentlemen, and no hasty judgment condemnatory of them has been expressed.

An investigation of the affair will be commenced at the custom-house here to-morrow before Captain John E. Edgar, inspector of steamboats for the district.

The body of the lady found yesterday near Fort Monroe has been identified as that of Mrs. Frederici.

Extraordinary Marriage of a Child.

The Liverpool Post, of June 18, Says: "An extraordinary marriage has been celebrated in the Church of St. Woohos, Newport, between a girl named Elizabeth Jones, of the tender age of thirteen years, and a young man of twenty-three years of age. The husband is supposed to be a street-preacher from Britonferry, and the child-wife is the daughter of Mr. Evan Jones, a storekeeper at the Vernon Tin Works. On Sunday night last the two met at the Neath Station, and proceeded to Newport, where they were joined by a sister of the young man. The latter had not before disclosed the purpose which he had in view to his relative, and when she heard of it she uttered an indignant remonstrance, refused to attend the church, and returned to her home. On proceeding to the church the following morning the bridegroom explained the absence of attendants by informing the clergyman that his sister had been suddenly taken unwell. The service was then accomplished, and a little girl thirteen years of age married by a priest of the Church of England. The child-wife afterward returned to her parents, who were much distressed at her absence, and informed them what had happened."

We would call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of the Brown Cotton Gin Co., in this issue, who makes a specialty of Cotton Gins, Self Feeders and Condensers, concerning which, Col. Walter Clark of Raleigh, N. C., writes as follows: "I have used a good deal of machinery, and seen a great deal in use by others, but I have never known any better adapted for its purpose or to give more entire satisfaction than Brown's Improved Self Feeder for Cotton Gins. It only needs to be known to insure its general adoption. Very truly yours, WALTER CLARK."

The magnitude of the flood disaster that has fallen on Southern France was scarcely indicated in the earlier dispatches. The loss of property is now estimated at sixty million dollars. This is far more ruinous to individual sufferers than a fire would be which destroyed the same value, because in the latter case there would be more or less general relief from insurance. The most appaling feature of the calamity is, however, the loss of three thousand human lives.

Somebody says that "large ears denote broad, comprehensive views and modes of thought." What magnificent ideas (thinks the Boston Journal) a jackass must have.

THE OLD NORTH STATE Vegetable Stomach Bitters

PREPARED BY

O. C. LANIER,
Hickory, N. C.

In offering to the public for the relief the Old North State Vegetable Stomach Bitters, I feel no hesitancy in saying that they are the purest and best article ever offered. I warrant each bottle to contain no chemical whatever—nothing but pure vegetable preparation, (see recommendation of physicians,) and be pure as the Waters.

In preparing this excellent tonic I spared no pains or cost to make it what I recommend it to be.

The Very Best Tonic ever offered to the public, and without the usual say about "Home Enterprise," I would say that if suffering—Throw away the worthless drugs sold you before, and would be "all cures," and try one.
